What Children Learn Through Meaningful Experiences with Picture Books

- Develop the skills of visual literacy
- Appreciate excellence in art and language
- Understand people, relationships, feelings, and motives
- Think more expansively about the real world and about imaginary ones
- Apply skills in all areas of the language arts—listening, speaking, reading, and writing—as well as in the arts in general
- Reflect on how real storytellers, writers, and artists work, and become inspired by them
- Interpret and evaluate literature in its many different forms
- Communicate more effectively by incorporating the content, vocabulary, and linguistic complexity found in literature
- Broaden their perspectives to view different cultures and individuals in less stereotypic ways
- Learn to select books that are suited to their reading levels and interests

(Mary Renck Jalongo, Young Children and Picture Books)
A Wonderful Woman
A wonderful woman lived in a shoe.
She had so many children
She knew exactly what to do.
She held them,
She rocked them,
And tucked them in bed.
“I love you, I love you,”
Is what she said.

Twinkle, Twinkle, Little Star
Twinkle, twinkle, little star,
What a wonderful child you are!
With big bright eyes and nice round cheeks,
A talented person from head to feet.
Twinkle, twinkle, little star,
What a wonderful child you are!

Little Miss Muffet
Little Miss Muffet sat on her tuffet,
Eating her oatmeal today.
Along came a spider and sat down beside her,
And said, “Have a wonderful day!”

Round and Round the Garden
Round and round the garden
Goes the teddy bear.
One step, two step
Tickle under there.
